No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true
Arise and defend it ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner yours [illegible] must save

FRIDAY MORNING, OCT 9 1863

No Dispatch

We are again without any intelligence by telegraph, though from the tenor of recent dispatches, we have no reason to expect important or decisive news for some days to come War, like everything else human, must have its delays and its vicissitudes, and if even reverses again visit our arms the courage and the enduring hopefulness of the loyal American heart are sufficient to enable it to rise above the clouds of disaster, and to see with rejoicing confidence the welcome victory which is as sure to come, as sunlight is to follow midnight

Let those then who love the Union and anxiously desire the triumph of its power be of good and patient cheer. Its glory will yet—let us hope speedily—shine forth at Charleston, at Mobile and at Chattanooga, with a splendor equal to that which illustrated the valor of its brave defenders at Vicksburg Port Hudson and Gettysburg

There is a rainbow in the sky
Upon the path where tempests trod
'Twas written by a hand on high—
It is the autograph of God '

New Democratic Doctrine

Formerly Democracy professed to follow as its guiding principles, such ideas as these "The greatest good to the greatest number " "the majority must govern," "the will of the people is the supreme law " These all operated very well, and gave entire satisfaction, so long as Democratic leaders controlled the majority But, behold now the change that has come over them ! A party, independent of their leadership has come into power by the voice of the majority of the people, and they at once loudly repudiate all their old principles. The minority must govern now It was all very well that the majority should do so while they managed and owned it, but when the foundation is knocked away from under their arrogant pretensions, when their divine right to govern is doubted, disputed and taken away from them, when the majority of the people concludes, and, in accordance with the Constitution, decides that it will, for its own welfare and safety, take charge of the Government, then these professed Democrats, who lived in the South, turn traitors, begin a gigantic rebellion, and attempt to overthrow the nation which will not any longer allow them to rule over it. Then, too, we find their sympathizing brother Democrats at the North, who do not fight the country in the field with cannon and weapons of war, denouncing the Government, repudiating its requirements encouraging violations of its laws, inviting and inspiring mobs, and, to the utmost of their power, aiding and comforting the rebellious Democrats at the South Such are the exemplars of Democracy at the present day. In its name, they hold conventions pass resolutions, and would make the people believe that they inherit the principles which once made it popular Shall they succeed in their schemes of deception ? Shall the new rule, that the minority must govern, because it calls itself the Democratic party, be adopted in place of that which gave the power to the majority ? Is the further existence of the Democratic party, now that it has abandoned all the patriotic doctrines which it ever even professed to entertain, and is chiefly occupied in contriving plans to do mischief to the Government, of any value or consequence to any one, save its leaders, who hope by its resurrection to rise again to places of power and influence ?

We commend these inquiries to the consideration of those who have been fascinated and charmed by the watchword Democracy and we pray them to judge calmly, whether as now expounded and illustrated by those who are its leaders, it is not high time that it should be scornfully repudiated by every honest man who loves his country and desires its prosperity This is no time for party names Men who insist upon them are traitors, when they make them superior to public, national and patriotic interests Come out from among them and be ye separate and touch not the unclean thing

Southern Losses by the Rebellion —It is estimated that since the war began, at least one hundred and fifty thousand slaves have escaped from their owners thus causing a pecuniary loss of over seventy five millions dollars Has not secession been a source of splendid profit to its admirers ?

The Augusta (Ga) Constitutionalist says that the number of married men in Georgia who have died in the service of the rebellion leaving widows still living is over five thousand What an awful accountability rests and must rest forever on the wicked schemers who for political and ambitious purposes have spread desolation and death through that State sending sorrow and agony to thousands of families and making the whole community a vast funeral procession !

"How are you going to put down the rebellion ?" said an Albany Copperhead, interrupting Daniel S Dickinson in his speech

'Hew it down, as Saul did Agag—right down through " answered the fiery Daniel

Bulletin Correspondence —The Judge in his last letter from Portland confines himself to his visit to Salem during the State Fair and to what he saw and heard there Of the people present he says

'In the main they were good, honest "sonsie" people, homely and rustic in their dress and manners speaking much a patois which, although once good English has in the progress of time and spelling books become provincial There was a respectable sprinkling of the Portland gentry with crack teams spider wheel wagons and well cut clothes At first they shone brightly in their metropolitan trim but as the week wore on became sadly bedusted Here and there was a stray specimen of the village dandy happy in his last year's fashions, and more rarely still a cross road blackguard noisy dirty and defiant Take it all in all and making every allowance in favor of the prize animals mammoth fruit and ingenious handicraft the people were the show

He praises the Governor's address very highly as being in a utilitarian point of view, the best ever delivered on this coast and refers to the speaking at the Union demonstration in this way

'The speeches of the occasion were the ones delivered by Judge Williams and Brother Pearne The Judge is always an agreeable speaker and often forcible but on this occasion it is thought that he outdid himself Although once a Democrat he had set his face against any reorganization of that old party so long the mother of places and place men, during this war In the maintenance of the war, he supported the Government, not a mere ideal abstraction, apart from the Administration, but the [illegible] Flesh and blood Government of Abraham Lincoln Brother Pearne's speech was elaborate and apparently well considered In elocution, diction and rythm he excelled all the others In politics it was not like the others but whether it was better or worse on this account events will determine It was a radical abolition speech in which the orator, with a prolonged note of triumph proclaimed to his hearers, that the verdict of the American people was fast being made up and would soon be irrevocably pronounced, that negro slavery must die in the smoke and heat of this war and that no foot of Southern soil should ever be readmitted into this Union, encumbered with a single slave '

Birth of a New State —A new State is born in the North American regions—not however, the nation which, according to Gladstone, Jefferson Davis had made and which events have since rather rapidly unmade again The State we allude to is none of your vulgar republics nay, it is not even one of your common place kingdoms It is an Empire Out of the ashes of Puebla and the ruins of the Juarez Government arises the new Empire of Mexico. Vive Maximilian I, Emperor of Mexico—provided always that Maximilian consents to mount the new and precarious throne. Certainly the news from Mexico is enough to take away the breath of steady going European politicians Which of us expected that events would have traveled with such dashing speed ? Marshal Forey undoes old systems and creates new sovereignties as fast as the great Napoleon himself could have done. While we are all wondering whether it was really intended to found an Empire in Mexico and if so bold a design did exist how the designer would begin to lay its foundations we are suddenly awakened from our reveries by the astounding news that the work is done—the empire is made When the politicians of the United States have time to think of anything but their own great struggle they may feel, as they look towards Mexico, something of the same surprise which Rip Van Winkle felt on perceiving that the sign board of the village inn no longer bore the effigy of old King George but exhibited the features of President Washington How will Europe like this experiment How will the United States of America relish it ? No one can doubt for a moment that the new Mexican Empire will be simply a French dependency, with a fine name If France had gone roundly in, annexed the country without circumlocution and sent a French vicegerent to govern it in the name of the Emperor Napoleon, the country which Marshal Forey has dubbed an empire could not be more strictly a French pashalik It will remain so until some change in the destinies of France, or some strong hand on the American continent, relieves Mexico once more of foreign occupation It does not seem to us that there is anything on which to congratulate Mexico France or Europe in the circumstances attending the birth of this new empire From the beginning of the enterprise we have regarded the Mexican expedition as the grand mistake of the Second Empire—Even the occupation of Rome seems to us less indefensible and far less likely to admit of timely and safe abandonment than this ill judged conquest of Mexico If any event of our day may safely be described as pregnant with with danger and disturbance to the world, it is this audacious endeavor to attach an offshoot of imperialism to the great American continent In the confusion caused by the progress of the gigantic American struggle, Europe has almost overlooked the progress of events in Mexico but we may rest assured that as soon as ever the question of North and South is settled, we shall see America try the right of France to plant military colonies and found new Empires on the soil which republicanism loves to believe its peculiar home —London Star

Policy of the Administration towards the Rebels —The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says

Parties have recently been here from Tennessee North Carolina Louisiana Texas and Arkansas, urging most earnestly the adoption and promulgation by the President of the policy in reference to the Southern States indicated in the letter of Secretary Seward to the French Minister of Foreign Affairs They represent that the masses of the people in those States are ready and anxious to return to their allegiance to the Federal Government as soon as they are assured of its protection against the rebel forces. They contend that the requirement that slavery shall be abolished as a pre-requisite for the readmission of these States into the Union is totally unnecessary and will only delay a consummation devoutly desired by the whole people They say the States named will after their readmission adopt emancipation laws as surely as Missouri and cite the political result in the latter State as an example of the condition of affairs in these other States The assertion of Senator Rusk of Texas that if that State should be divided, as was proposed into four States, there would be three free and only one slave is pointed to as an evidence of the ultimate emancipation of slavery there These representations have had considerable influence in Cabinet circles, and the argument that the abolition of slavery will surely follow the return into the Union has materially lessened the force of the radical faction in insisting upon the previous abolition of slavery as sine qua non of the readmission of any of the vagrant stars of the constellation

General Oglesby's Speech—"The Key Note"

It is claimed by some that President Lincoln's letter to the Springfield Mass Meeting was the key note of the Presidential campaign It is a great mistake General Oglesby's speech sounded the ' key note, by declaring the true policy of the Administration with reference to the war, and the restoration of the Union In his speech as reported in the Chicago Tribune of the 7th, Gen Oglesby said

'The rebel government is now defeated—without ever having an entity they are now a nonentity. It is gone body and soul and the dispersing it is now a mere form In this position knowing that the Confederacy is gone and the so called Republic is sunk to rise no more they will offer terms of peace This is what I fear you will have to meet Davis will not send commissioners to our Government but it will go forth to this country in a few months that they are ready to lay down their arms with propositions to come back in the Government These will not be made to us formally, but they will come from the newspaper and the public speakers of the South—until we are inclined to believe that they are true although we may not believe it now—and what will they say ? ' You said you wanted to restore the Union, and preserve the Constitution—we now say we will lay down our arms and come back into the Union with all our sovereign rights as before There is the trouble my friends the very moment we hear the distant rumbling of peace peace from the Southern people—although it will be couched in the most dishonorable terms—still it will be open to our people for discussion and then all over these Northern States that multitude of men who have been crying for peace and charging you and I with carrying on this war as Abolitionists will array themselves in a solid phalanx and say to us ' Now lay down your arms these people are ready to come back again as they were give us the Union as it was give them back their land, repeal the Confiscation Act ignore the proclamation and reinstate slavery ' [Cries, ' Never ! never ! '] Aye never ! never ! This multitude says never, and all good Union men say never ! But there is another multitude, clothed in the habiliments of ease they say ' Let them come back " We shall hear this call in every county and in every city of our land Now I want every man woman and child, to day, to seal up in his heart and in his memory the declarations uttered to day, and cherish them as a never dying element, that you will say, ' Never ! never ! ' The time has come to try you [' We are ready '] and I know you are able to meet it I know the rebels will do any thing—every citizen and soldier has conclusive evidence on that point '

Railroad Sabbath Observance —At a late Sabbath Convention, held at Saratoga N Y, William E Dodge, who for years was and perhaps is yet a director of the N Y and Erie railroad gave an account of the workings of Sabbath keeping on some of the railroads with the management of which he was connected To a railroad which kept the Sabbath, the best American born workmen were attracted men who demanded one day in seven to themselves when they might spend the day with their children and eat the Sunday dinner at home Such engineers and brakemen had sounder heads and steadier hands than those who worked seven days in the week, and he had learned to feel safer when under their care He thought all Sunday trains a loss most of them indeed a dead loss for the passengers on them would go on Monday if there were no Sunday trains He believed, even, that the Continental system of Sunday excursion trains recently started by one of the roads out of New York city would not be remunerative in the long run

Democracy and the Mobs —The Montreal Witness sums up in an excellent article on "The secession party in the North, the probable results of the riots in New York

The great Democratic or pro slavery party at the North has probably received a fatal blow from the New York riots. It was strong enough last fall to elect Seymour, Governor of the State, but after his open sympathy with the rioters we doubt if he could obtain any votes were the election now to take place, except those of the rowdy class unhappily too numerous, but not sufficiently so to carry any election alone The wealthy men connected with the Democratic party and they are very numerous and very wealthy in New York, Albany, Buffalo, etc, must have felt very uncomfortable to see the thieves and cutthroats of New York let loose under the auspices of the party to which they belonged and urged on by the papers which they sustained Had the enormously wealthy members of the Democratic pro slavery party had their banks stores and palaces sacked their eyes would have been still better opened but the danger probably came near enough to induce them to avoid a repetition of it

The game of pretending loyalty to the Union and a determination to press the war while resisting the Union Government loudly condemning its supporters and sympathizing with the rebels must be nearly played out Where all the condemnation is for the Abolitionists of the North who are the staunchest supporters of the Federal Government and none of it for the slaveholders of the South who are in arms against it, the loyalty is of a kind which any Government might well dispense with In fact the reaction which the three days of July in New York must have occasioned in the public mind may probably yet prove a great element of strength to the Federal Government and Republican and anti slavery party The inhuman and dastardly persecution of colored men also by the mob will probably turn public opinion more in their favor than any event of this war or rather revolution for a revolution it must necessarily be all parties scouting alike a return to the state of things existing before the war

Further from Andy Johnson —At Nashville, lately Andy Johnson made another speech in which he said

The heart of the masses of the people beat strongly for freedom the system of negro slavery had proved baleful to the nation by arraying itself against the institutions and interests of the people and the time had clearly come when means should be devised for its total eradication from Tennessee Slavery is a cancer in our society and the scalpel of the statesman should be used not simply to pare away the exterior and leave the roots to propagate the disease anew but to remove it altogether Let us destroy the cause of our domestic dissensions and this bloody civil war It is neither wise nor just to compromise with an evil so gigantic He avowed himself unequivocally for the removal of slavery the sooner it can be effected the better Some inconveniences might most likely follow temporarily but these would be more than compensated by the grand impulse given to all our interests by the substitution of free for slave labor He was for immediate emancipation if he could get it, if this could not be obtained, he was for gradual emancipation —but emancipation at all events

Fallen Women in London —The annual meeting of the friends of the midnight meetings for depraved and fallen women was recently held in London The statistics of the secretary showed that there were at least fifty thousand fallen women in that city alone pursuing their abominable occupation, while in the United Kingdom four hundred thousand was the lowest computation Since the formation of this movement upwards of five hundred of these unfortunate creatures have been rescued from a life of shame, several of them have been restored to their friends and not a few are now filling respectable situations This is one of the most worthy humanitarian movements of the age

A Hit at John Bull —R B Forbes of Boston writes to the Bulletin of that city and states upon the authority of the New York Chamber of Commerce that the small force of the rebels has destroyed and bonded 150 vessels comprising 1 U S gunboat 1 steamer, 1 steam tug, 9 ships 34 barks [illegible] schooners—amounting to 61 [illegible] tons valued (at $50 per ton) at $[illegible] Value of cargo from China $3,500,000 value of cargo from other ports $5,400,000 total $11,150,000 ' He adds ' what will become of British commerce if she quarrels with us ? If three or four rebel privateers can destroy $12,000,000 of property in three years what amount can 200 Yankee privateers armed ships destroy in half the time ?'

While the bells were ringing at Portsmouth for the fall of Vicksburg a disloyal man asked sneeringly of a Unionist, Where is the fire ? The latter responded, In the heart of every patriotic citizen, you cursed Copperhead

Worth Emulating —We notice that [illegible]rs Failings are engaged in relaying an [illegible] new sidewalk adjacent to their property [illegible] First and Oak street This is a good move, [illegible] it would be well if some others of our [illegible]perty holders would follow suit

[illegible]cknowledgment of Deeds —We are re[illegible]ted to call attention to the fact, that under [illegible] new code now in force, Clerks of Courts [illegible] their deputies have no authority to take [illegible]owledgments of conveyances The omis[illegible] to give this authority was probably acci[illegible] and seems to have escaped general [illegible]ervation, but as difficulties might arise, if [illegible] practice is continued, it is well that the [illegible] should be understood Of course, parties [illegible] deeds have been thus acknowledged, [illegible] the code went into operation, can easily [illegible] the defect remedied Judges, notaries [illegible] and justices of the peace are the only [illegible] authorized to take acknowledgments

[illegible]rs Hayne at the Dalles —We are glad [illegible] learn that this accomplished lady is justly [illegible]preciated at the Dalles—the audiences that [illegible] listened to her so far having thronged [illegible] house to its utmost capacity Those who [illegible] her cannot fail to be delighted and we [illegible] she will meet with all the success which [illegible] eminently deserves She will probably [illegible] the citizens of Vancouver an opportunity [illegible] witness her powers during the ensuing [illegible]k, and we doubt not that they will grate[illegible]ly avail themselves of it

[illegible]he Despotism of Slavery —Defending [illegible] course in advocating the restoration of the [illegible] upon an anti slavery basis, the New [illegible]ork Tribune, among other irrefragible arguments justifies its position by the following [illegible]rration to which we invite the reader's [illegible] attention Says the Tribune

A prominent Democrat who lives and does [illegible]ness in our city (and whose name not [illegible] publication but for the verification of this [illegible]tatement, is at the service of the World) was induced some years since to buy an estate in [illegible] Virginia reputed rich in gold He [illegible]ployed a foreman to develop it, hired 25 or [illegible] of the poor whites residing upon or adja[illegible] to it to assist as laborers and came here [illegible] attend to other business But a few weeks [illegible] elapsed until he received a dispatch from [illegible] foreman, urging him to hurry back to [illegible]uisa county and help the said foreman out [illegible] trouble He promptly obeyed, and, soon [illegible] reaching his estate, was waited upon by [illegible] gentlemen, who proclaimed themselves [illegible] committee from the neighboring proprietors [illegible]pointed to notify him that he must not em[illegible] white labor on his estate, but must hire [illegible] buy slaves He ventured to remonstrate—[illegible]ged that he had imported no laborers into [illegible]irginia—that his men were all natives of [illegible] State and fixed residents of the vicinage, [illegible], but was cut short by the spokesman [illegible] the rebel Gen Jenkins,) with a curt re[illegible]nder that they had not proposed to argue [illegible] point—that it was not the policy of Vir[illegible] to encourage white labor where slaves [illegible] to be had—and that they only desired [illegible] know whether he proposed to comply with [illegible] demand or take the consequences of re[illegible]

Here one of the white laborers—a re[illegible]able, worthy citizen, over fifty years old, who happened to be present or passing—ven[illegible]tured to interpose the query But what [illegible] we to do to support our families ?" 'Don t you know enough to hold your tongue ?' re[illegible]sponded the scion of chivalry, with such a [illegible] as he might have bestowed on a toad who [illegible] undertaken to lecture him on trigonome[illegible] The poor white was cowed into abject [illegible]ence the New Yorker said that he had no [illegible]hoice, so he submitted with the best possible [illegible]race, dismissed the white Virginians to their [illegible] huts and ragged, unschooled children [illegible] proceeded to hire the negroes of his dom[illegible]ring neighbors as he needs must He [illegible] paying the whites 80 cents in cash per [illegible] they told him they would gladly work [illegible] 60 cents rather than be thrown off but [illegible]ough he wanted their work and they want[illegible] his money they were all under the yoke of [illegible] iron despotism and had to succumb

WORTH EMULATING — We notice that Messrs. Failings are engaged in relaying an entire new sidewalk adjacent to their property on First and Oak street. This a good move, and it would be well if some others, of our property holders, would follow suit.

GOOD FOR MULTNOMAH — Notwithstanding the city is now filled with strangers, there is not a single prisoner in either the county or city jail. This fact speaks well for the morals of Portland.

ENFORCE IT — There is an ordinance in this city compelling owners of dogs to pay a license for them. It would be well if this ordinance were enforced, as it would be the means of exterminating some of the worthless curs that are at large—a nuisance to every one.

"FEET"—Many of our citizens have become interested in various quartz claims in this State and Idaho Territory, and "feet" are becoming quite a topic of discussion on our streets.

FUN AMONG THE CELESTIALS—There was a good deal of amusement afforded outside the walls yesterday evening, on Alder street between First and Second. A number of "Hong Kongs" and "Cantons" were carrying on a war of jaw breaking words which nearly ended in a battle, but the fear of the police, no doubt, presented the drenching of our streets in such precious blood.

THE DIORAMA.—This beautiful exhibition will open to-night, at the theater. Every one should go and see it.

THE LITTLE SLAVE — An exhibition will be given this afternoon, of the North Carolina slave, alone, in Holmes' building, First street, to which place Mr Graham has moved his "show." The exhibition this afternoon is for the benefit of ladies and children.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF DEEDS — We are requested to call attention to the fact, that under the new code now in force, Clerks of Courts and their deputies have no authority to take acknowledgments of conveyances. The omission to give this authority was probably accidental and seems to have escaped general observation, but as difficulties might arise, if the practice is continued, it is well that the fact should be understood. Of course, parties whose deeds have been thus acknowledged, since the code went into operation, can easily have the defect remedied. Judges, notaries public and justices of the peace are the only officers authorized to take acknowledgments.

MRS HAYNE AT THE DALLES.—We are glad to learn that this accomplished lady is justly appreciated at the Dalles—the audiences that have listened to her so far having thronged the house to its utmost capacity. Those who hear her cannot fail to be delighted, and we hope she will meet with all the success which she eminently deserves. She will, probably give the citizens of Vancouver an opportunity to witness her powers during the ensuing week, and we doubt not that they will grate fully avail themselves of it.

THE DESPOTISM OF SLAVERY.—Defending Seymour in advocating the restoration of the Union upon an anti-slavery basis, the New York Tribune, among other irrefragible arguments, justifies its position by the following narration, to which we invite the reader's attention. Says the Tribune:

A prominent Democrat who lives and does business in our city (and whose name, not for publication but for the verification of this statement, is at the service of the World) was induced some years since, to buy an estate in Eastern Virginia reputed rich in gold. He employed a foreman to develop it, hired 25 or 30 of the poor whites residing upon or adjacent to it to assist as laborers, and came here to attend to other business. But a few weeks had elapsed until he received a dispatch from his foreman, urging him to hurry back to Louisa county and help the said foreman out of trouble. He promptly obeyed, and, soon after reaching his estate, was waited upon by three gentlemen, who proclaimed themselves a committee from the neighboring proprietors appointed to notify him that he must not employ white labor on his estate, but must hire their slaves. He ventured to remonstrate—urged that he had imported no laborers into Virginia—that his men were all natives of the State and fixed residents of the vicinage, &c., but was cut short by the spokesman, (now the rebel Gen. Jenkins,) with a curt rejoinder that they had not proposed to argue the point—that it was not the policy of Virginia to encourage white labor where slaves were to be had—and that they only desired to know whether he proposed to comply with their demand or take the consequences of refusal. Here one of the white laborers—a respectable, worthy citizen, over fifty years old, who happened to be present or passing—ventured to interpose the query: "But what are we to do to support our families?" "Don't you know enough to hold your tongue?" responded the scion of chivalry, with such a look as he might have bestowed on a toad who had undertaken to lecture him on trigonometry. The poor white was cowed into abject silence, the New Yorker said that he had no choice, so he submitted with the best possible grace, dismissed the white Virginians to their empty huts and ragged, unschooled children, and proceeded to hire the negroes of his domineering neighbors, as he needs must. He was paying the whites 80 cents in cash per day; they told him they would gladly work for 60 cents rather than be thrown off, but, though he wanted their work and they wanted his money, they were all under the yoke of a cruel despotism, and had to succumb.

All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town liable to the risk of fire. In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

The Spirit of Rebeldom

The subjoined extracts from late rebel papers will give the reader a passing idea of matters in the South

THE WANT OF DAYS [illegible]

It is a matter [illegible] that there has been little zeal manifested in this city and the surrounding country in making preparations for our own [illegible] to defense and especially [illegible] stake To be sure we [illegible] and passed very patriotic and [illegible] but where are the fruits of them [illegible] not been increased [illegible] as we were before any meeting [illegible] Have we lost our spirit [illegible] the [illegible] and old who volunteered at the beginning of this unholy war take all the [illegible] hood with them [illegible] unending talk can [illegible] What we must have is a thorough organization and every man capable of bearing [illegible] it There are now a few [illegible] companies here [illegible] up or perhaps with a little [illegible] but who do not muster more than a respectable sized squad while there should be in this city at least [illegible] regiment [illegible] they should turn out at every drill [illegible] our soldiers can devote their whole time to the service we certainly ought to spare a few hours of each week in preparing to defend our homes Montgomery is one of the wealthiest cities in the Confederacy in proportion to the number of its inhabitants and it certainly seems to be the most defenceless — Montgomery, [illegible]

RIGOROUS ENFORCEMENT OF THE DEATH PENALTY FOR DESERTION

The Richmond E[illegible] in an article on Conscription North and South gives a summary of Governor Seymour's reply to President Lincoln in regard to the draft in New York It says

The Federal Government has an air of resolution Lincoln puts his foot firmly down and has also put 15,000 New England troops in close proximity to New York city He will have to send a great many more than these if that huge volcano of vice should take fire in earnest But in spite of all these fire symptoms we do not anticipate the conflagration We have seen them all before The rent will be patched the breech will be closed and the draft, after some hubbub will be made Money will clear all Lincoln will accept the commutation, and Yankee Democrats will pay it The only consoling certainty is that no addition to the Yankee army will be made through the $300 draft The pretended conscription of last year did not half fill the ranks broken at Sharpsburg The present enrolment will not give any recruits to the army decimated at Gettysburg

Thus in this season conscription occupies the public mind at the North as at the South [illegible] in a very different manner Here is the danger of pushing the matter to the point of extravagance for a draft may be framed so as to destroy the power of drafting Silly, frightened and impracticable persons call out now and then for a conscription of the entire population from 16 to 60, and some, perhaps who mean ill enough to the cause give in to the cry When the Legislature and Congress meet many demagogues will be ready with projects to meet the popular demand A foolish alteration of existing laws may do an incalculable mischief without adding one man to the numerical strength of the army The Confederate army is already as large as the country can support and if all the men, or any number approaching all, were in their places it would be superior to the Federal force, either at the present or any future time Again and again we repeat the palpable truth that what the country needs is not new conscriptions but the nerve necessary to enforce existing military law Why are the ranks thin? Where are the men They have neither been killed or disabled The only true answer is that they have deserted Now no human agency can prevent soldiers from deserting but a merciless application of the death penalty Patriotism, high spirit or novelty, may keep them together for a little while but when the struggle has lasted two years these motives are powerless The large majority of every army is necessarily composed of very ignorant and thoughtless men Eloquent appeals to them are more than useless The fear of punishment is the only power that can control them If the authorities have not the resolution to punish deserters with death there is little hope for the South More law, more draft more conscription, is all leather and prunella The present laws if enforced, will furnish 600,000 more men What more is wanted?

THE NORTH CAROLINA PEACE MOVEMENT

The following communication in relation to the course of the Raleigh Standard in advocating submission and reconstruction, is published in the Savannah Republican

Can it be possible, sir that the good people of Raleigh will tolerate such sentiments in their midst? Will they continue to permit such a truckling coward to edit a paper in their city? I cannot believe it They will vindicate their own sentiments and force this poor creature—who deserves not the name of man—to seek a home among those dear Yankees whose slave he is so anxious to become Such a fellow is scarcely worth our indignation but he should not be permitted to insult the brave people of our Confederacy by such articles It is scarcely to be supposed that a man of his stamina will be able to do much harm but our late reverses have developed other trembling, weak kneed fellows who have not shouldered their muskets to defend their homes, who together with this brave editor are ready to fall down on their knees and beg mercy of their masters the Yankees Such cowards sir were born slaves, and do not deserve that brave men should toil and sweat and bleed to protect them from such a doom

So much for the submission Now a word to the reconstructionists and let me tell you Mr Editor, that I do not consider them a whit better He who advocates reconstruction advocates submission, and he knows it but he thinks the word reconstruction is less objectionable than submission and he does not think the people are quite ready for that word yet But let us see who advocates reconstruction and submission It is men who are staying at home and have not drawn their swords in defense of their country What better could be expected from such? A man that will see his country, his home invaded, and not take up arms to defend it is by nature a slave, and is only prevented from being one by better men fighting his battles and standing between him and his masters.

Alas! for my country, that there are so many such. There are enough men at home in the Confederacy to make such an army as would end this war in six months The streets of Macon and every other town in the Confederacy are filled with these fellows, who are enjoying their ease while their betters are standing awake that they may sleep in safety, and fasting that they may be full It makes my heart broken to think of them and when I get in their presence I can hardly contain my indignation Let his exemption be ever so well endorsed posterity will hold him accountable An appeal to the patriotism of these people would be useless, for they have none There is but one thing can reach them—that is the strong arm of the law, and I am amazed that our Government has waited on them so long

AFFAIRS IN RICHMOND — A gentleman who left Richmond less than a week ago, brings us information of the state of affairs in that city He is one of the very many others who have succeeded in escaping to the North to relieve themselves of the hardships incident to the rebellion He states that from his personal knowledge there are not less than twenty persons in this city and twenty in Philadelphia and Baltimore, who have lately got through the lines to the North, and whom he has met during his short stay He represents the state of feeling there, as refers to the war, as gloomy and despondent to the last degree All hope in the success of the Confederacy appears to have vanished There may be a lingering glimmer of expectation in some minds that France may come to their aid, but this is indulged in by very few — There is no talk, however of returning love of the old Union There are a class who through it all, have nursed a regret at the disruption of the States, and who would hail with pleasure a return to the old order of things There is another class always very numerous in every society who have no especial interest in matters of Government one way or the other, except so far as they are affected personally These people, seriously affected and discomforted by the troubles the war of the rebellion has brought upon them look back at the peace and prosperity of the old Union, and long for a return of the old times The more violent secessionists are silent and moody now hating the Union perhaps more than ever because of the failure of their efforts against it The sectional pride however of the whole Southern people is seriously hurt by their defeat at the hands of the despised Yankees The fall of Charleston was believed among all classes there to be inevitable Our informant was conversing with an engineer in the army who when he heard that Gen Gilmore had obtained a foothold upon Morris Island said that he considered the fall of Charleston as certain—as only a matter of time

AN ENGLISH PICTURE OF THE ENGLISH — The London Morning Herald closes a sharp attack on Palmerston and his policy, by the following picture of the present relations of England to the rest of the world

We have alienated all our old allies and have virtually severed our alliances with our new ones We are distrusted in Europe we are despised in America We are hated from China to Paris from St Petersburg to Rio Janeiro We have earned the dislike of the Italians the ill will of Russia the contempt of France the hostility of Brazil the ridicule of the Yankees, and the profound mistrust of the Confederates The weak feel that they must always fear us, for we seem to be on the watch to pick a quarrel with the weak the strong see that they may insult us with impunity, for there is nothing that we are not ready to bear from the strong Such are the results of four years of liberal spirited and consistent foreign policy

From Rev J Newton Brown, D D, Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general [illegible] the [illegible] and effects [illegible] I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr C M Jackson of this city because I was prejudiced against them for many years under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker Esq for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before and had almost despaired of regaining I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them

J NEWTON BROWN

PHILADELPHIA June 23 1861

PARTICULAR NOTICE

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters put up in quart bottles compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcohol of the worst kind the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters we publish the following receipt Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market and will cost much less You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA, August [illegible]

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well gentlemen your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life There is no mistake in this It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs and was for seventy two days in the hospital This was followed by great debility heightened by an attack of dysentery I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer 'State of Maine' from which I landed on the 28th of June Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything and if I did force a morsel down it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach Life could not last under these circumstances and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer frankly told me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital Mr Frederick Steinbron of Sixth below Arch Street advised me as a forlorn hope to try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded and I am now thank God for it getting better Though I have taken but two bottles I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months for gentlemen I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life

Very truly yours
ISAAC MALONE
